IBD STAFF | 11:10 AM ET 11/10/2021

This is IBD's list of the 100 Best ESG Companies of 2021. Tech giants Microsoft (MSFT), Nvidia (NVDA), Salesforce.com (CRM) and Accenture (ACN) all made the grade, as well as non-tech companies like Linde (LIN), J.B. Hunt (JBHT) and Gildan Activewear (GIL).

Finding companies with strong stocks and growth needn't be a trade-off with environmental, social and governance values. All of these top ESG companies mix profitability with ethical and social responsibility. To come up with this list, we first screened Dow Jones ESG data, which includes more than 6,000 companies.

We looked for the top 15% of the 2,360 companies whose stock price was $10 or higher and traded in the U.S. Then, we screened for companies with IBD Composite Rating of 85 or better. Then, to break the tie at 100, we screened for Relative Strength Rating and EPS Rating. Finally, we ranked them by Dow Jones ESG data.*

Besides these ratings, the list below shows dividend yield, earnings and sales growth rates, return on equity and SMR Rating, which combines sales, profit margin and ROE performance in one measure.

Make sure to also visit our IBD 50, which is updated daily, to see which of these stocks still qualify for our flagship screen of leading growth stocks.
